

Remarks/Arguments

Claims 1-52 are pending in this application. Claims 1, 35 and 36 are the independent claims. Claims 50-52 are newly added dependent claims. No new matter has been added.

In the Office Action dated February 19, 2008, the Examiner made many objections and rejections. Applicant respectfully disagrees, but in order to expedite allowance of the claims, Applicant has amended all of these claims per the Examiner's suggestion.

The Examiner objected to Claim 11 as being substantially identical to Claim 10. Applicant has amended Claim 11 to make it both more similar to Claim 11 as originally filed and to overcome the Examiner's objection. The Examiner also rejected Claims 1-49 because of the use of the word "apparatus". Applicant has deleted the word "apparatus" and replaced it with the words "personal computer". Such replacement makes the meaning of Claims 1-52 clear and should overcome the Examiner's objection. The Examiner rejected Claims 6, 48 and 49 because the limitation was unclear. Applicant has amended these claims to overcome the Examiner's objection. The Examiner also rejected Claim 20, and recommended Applicant amend the claim to state "the" World Wide Web and/or "the" Internet. Applicant has amended Claim 20 per the Examiner's suggestion. The Examiner also rejected Claim 21 because of the word "substantially". Applicant has deleted this word from the claim.

Applicant has changed the phrase "comprising . . . a" to "comprising . . . at least one" throughout the claims to make explicit that "comprising . . . a" means "comprising . . . one or more". This is consistent with the meaning of the claims in all of Applicant's other patents and patent applications, even though the claims in these other patents and patent applications have not been changed to "comprising . . . at least one".

Appl. No. 09/935,779
Amdt. Dated April 21, 2008
Reply to Office Action of February 19, 2008

The application has been further amended to place the application in better condition prior to examination. All amendments are supported by the specification. An early notice of allowance is earnestly solicited.
